

RINDERFETT

For extra energy at mealtimes

You can add an extra boost of energy into your dog or cat food with these small, handy chunks of beef fat.

Fat provides a great deal of energy making it a suitable way of feeding your pet in intense situations of bodily exhaustion, pregnancy or convalescence.

Malnourished pets can also be brought back to a healthy weight with the addition of more fat into their diets.

Where necessary, a small cube of fat can be used as an appetiser.

Beef fat is free of all additives (100% natural) and not mixed with sugar or any other ingredients. It can be rapidly processed by the body and quickly meets the energy needs of your pet.
